AN ORGANIZATION ON DISPLAY

The Marine band was there, there were lots of people who knew a lot about horses, and some who didn't know so much, there was a little colored boy about 4 feet high in a maroon colored cutaway to meet you at the door, there was plenty to keep you cool and more of the same to keep you hot, if hot was your mood, there was about as beautiful a panorama of garden, lawn, whitewashed fencing and fine grass fields as can be seen and then there were tables with umbrellas, plenty of chairs and lots of good company, with which to enjoy it.

It was Saturday, July 27 and North Wales Stud, Warrenton, Va. was showing off. Its yearlings were on display on the garden lawn and leading the parade were five stallions, *Chrysler II, By Jimminy, Eurasian, Hyperion, Ramillies and Head Play. The big, brown *Chrysler II, named by the late Lord Derby in honor of the father of the present owner of North Wales was first in line, fitting tribute to *Teddy, and Gallant Fox and all that his heritage implies in American blood lines.

All 5 stallions have won, according to an attractively gotten up North Wales Brochure, 809 races and $1,168,037 to the end of 1945, 93 races and $215,008 in first monies only this year. This was a North Wales bally-hoo party, the 5th one in as many years, and it is pretty good bally-hoo. Virginia needs more of it, being, as the brochure so aptly concluded, "The State where the meadow grass of England became the blue grass of America and to which was imported the first Thoroughbred."

It is always very interesting to see how business enterprises are built up. They have to depend on salesmanship and the varying brands of salesmanship speak pretty much of the quality of the leadership behind the organization. There are few businesses that can afford to leave their selling techniques to anyone else because it is of necessity their lifeblood. From the scope of this party, the entertainment provided, and what is even a little more important, though sometimes overlooked, the quality of the bloodstock in the shape of 23 yearlings which are such an organization's business product for 1946, North Wales is seriously in business and leaves no stone unturned in its ambition to sell yearlings and to win races. Not a bad sort of ambition in this day and age of fabulous stake monies and fabulous yearling prices.

The North Wales Show attracted Life magazine whose editorial staff, field representatives and camera detail were snapping and writing most of the day, crouching under the yearlings' inquisitive noses to get a proper angle shot, or sidling up to such a celebrity as Field Marshal Lord Maitland Wilson to catch him studying some of the results of his nation's *Bahram progeny or nodding approvingly at those of Head Play. North Wales believes in breeding to its own horses, thinks that the assortment of American, British and continental blood represented in its sires and matrons are sufficient to produce the best racehorses in the world.

The fact that they have not produced a Whirlaway, Assault or Bimelech to date is due more to that peculiar set of circumstances surrounding breeding racehorses, known vicariously as racing luck, than to failure in scope of its breeding operations. There are enough high class blood lines in North Wales Stud to produce a half dozen "Equies" and in due time, they will come along, as all champions do come along, seemingly out of the air, but actually out of hundreds and hundreds of breeding experiments.

When the last car had swept down the drive, past the band of matrons with their foals at side, fitting reminder of North Wales' future, when the last yearling had walked gracefully past the departing crowd, No. 23, actually a beautifully made masculine filly by *Bahram—Marsh Marigold, by *Sir Gallahad 3rd, then it was easier to sum up the significance of this unique party. There was grace, hospitality, good cheer. But principally there was a very large breeding establishment on display with an honest purpose and a lot to do it with.

Letters to the Editor

Varied Styles Of Riding

July 23, 1946.

Dear Sir:

Your editorial "Is Riding An Art?" was very good. Lately I have been watching riders in some of the many horse shows around Philadelphia and have wondered how to account for their varied styles. Many of these horse show riders are professional trainers. Each one has a different style and method of handling the horse. Some of these styles are not merely "different"; they are weird. Some strange things can also be seen in many of the excellent illustrations which appear in The Chronicle. Altogether, the inquiring amateur seeking knowledge of horsemanship is bewildered.

As you have pointed out, there are too few people who have studied the great masters of modern horsemanship, whose methods are readily available in books. Besides the book by Littauer, which you mentioned, there is another by the same author, first published under the title "Riding Forward" and recently re-issued in a $1.00 edition with the title, "Modern Horsemanship for Beginners". Another excellent book, advocating the same methods of the forward seat, is "Heads Up; Heels Down", by the well-known horse illustrator and author, C. W. Anderson.

Could you not arrange to re-publish extracts and illustrations from some of these books? Or perhaps one of the authors would write you a series of articles on modern riding with the forward seat. This is becoming so popular in the hunting field that such a series would undoubtedly prove very popular with your readers.

Yours truly,

Foxhunter.

Strange Thing— Horsemanship

July 23, 1946

Dear Sir:

Your editorial of Friday, July 12, 1946, "Is Riding An Art?" is one of the finest I have read.

A strange thing, horsemanship. It keeps ageing upon a man, like a fine wine, as he ages. It is love of horses. It is touch and go whether you bring out the best in the horse or whether he brings out the best in you. The work, sweat, tears and joys, whether the person be young or old, once working with horses there is no getting away from them.

A man can be overpowered by drugs, alcohol or women but can be cured. Once horses get into your blood, there is no holding except the inevitable parting of the roads.

Working to make a hunter, a steeplechaser or runner a champion it is work and more work, striving on and on to produce greater ones than the last. It is a love that no woman can give, the crowning glory that drive men and women on in their field, amateur and professional.

I know. I have seen hardbitten and tough army men, not cry, but bawl like hungry babies when their old and faithful companion is condemned of injuries or of old age.

I have striven ever since I was a small child to have horses of my own. I have had them but only by hard work. Not the best, but good enough to hack four to six hours a day and to be able to show and win a few honors for them.

What is it that makes a man feel that way? Even now that I have a small family, the yearning to have and to ride a horse again across country is too great to overcome, to watch or ride in a steeplechase, fox hunt or show, to play lightly the reins over the fingers, the playing of the bit, the changing of lead, the approach of hurdle, the feeling of controlling hundreds of pounds of a willing, powerful animal that has a mind of its own and at times uses it out of line is a thrill one does not forget. The patience and understanding of schooling a young horse, gaining its confidence, coaxing and leading it on to what you wish to school it to, are all part of the thrill which holds a person to horses through hell or high water!

The above letter may be placed in Letters to the Editor in The Chronicle if you feel it is worthy of reading. It is very hard sometimes to put down on paper that which is so near to your heart. I'm only twenty-six and am an ex-cavalryman and as you may have heard it is impossible to change the heart or the boots on any real cavalryman.

Golden Ann

July 20, 1946

Dear Sirs:

In your summaries of the winners at the Warrenton Virginia Horsemen's Assn., Breeding Stock Show my mare Golden Ann was 2nd in the hunter division mares. I felt badly that you did not have her down in the summaries.

I suppose your mistake came because the No. 95 which was her number in the catalogue was lost and she had to carry No. 201.

Yours truly,

R. H. Ingalls,

Mrs. Fay Ingalls,

Hot Springs, Virginia.

Hunters And Jumpers At Lexington

Five-Day Show Primarily For Saddle Horses
Changes Its Type To Applaud Performance Of Hunters Over Obstacles

By Ruth R. Hardin

Colonel Thomas G. Johnson, retired, U. S. Army officer, well known polo player and hunter enthusiast, as manager of the Lexington Junior League Horse Show held at the famous trotting track on July 15 to 20th, took the bit in his teeth and more than successfully cleared the tremendous hurdle of making this beautiful show an important hunter and jumper event. There were seventy entries in this division. About 35 hunters and 30 jumpers showed and eliminations were held each morning for the jumpers.

Heretofore in this show the saddle horse had reigned supreme and the Junior Leaguers had contended that hunters and jumpers were not appreciated by the spectators. From now on it will be difficult for them to explain away the deafening applause, the whooping and yelling of the crowd as they watched such spectacular fencers as Atakapa, Reject, Sun Beau, Suburban Limited, and others. Before the week was over the spectators were arriving for the first class of hunters, in spite of the dinner hour, and staying to see the open horses in the last event. Much to the amusement of everyone, Colonel Johnson had slyly placed the Thoroughbred hunter between the two $1,500 gaited horse stakes, literally forcing the saddle horse devotee to watch a beautiful hunter in action, trying to correct their two pet peeves, that hunters are ugly and take up too much time. It was a good looking class and served its purpose as to time, the jumps having been cleverly constructed with rollers.

Seriously speaking the Junior League Show is not only a beautiful spectacle, but is a very worthwhile event, the proceeds going to various charities. Under the able management of Col. Johnson, the untiring work of Mrs. William Walton as chairman, Mrs. Spencer Finnell, Sect. Treas., as well as all the committees, this year's show was their greatest and most profitable. Miss Billy Jackson was a capable and ornamental ringmaster. George Swinebroad, famous tobacco auctioneer, in his own inimitable way did the announcing. Christopher M. Greer, Jr., Middleburg did a bang-up job of judging the hunters and jumpers.

Opening night, hunter folk sat with their fingers crossed for the green class brought out some really green ones. However Bay Warrior, owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Swab, Jr., Sonja, 2nd, owned by Mrs. Hugh Barclay, Jack Cady's King Ballot, and F. J. Anderson's Dellwood gave nice performances. Bay Warrior's way of going was typical of a good field hunter. Conformation was 25 percent and the ribbons were tied in the order given above.

The last class of this first night, the knockdown-and-out was a completely upsetting event. Fifteen horses refused the 2nd fence a chicken coop. The lighting arrangement caused each horse to run into what was seemingly another horse coming toward him as he approached this weird obstacle. Needless to say it was his own shadow and the faulty lighting was immediately corrected. In spite of spooky going, Sun Beau owned by Mrs. Hugh Barclay and Over Again owned by F. J. Anderson went clean. After raising the fences Over Again knocked down the 5th one and Sun Beau went clean to place 1st.

Mrs. George Bunting, Jr. took the show on Tuesday evening by winning both the ladies' hunter and the novice jumper with her own hunter, Gold Nugget. She also took 2nd place in the ladies with that consistent combination hunter and jumper, Suburban Limited, owned by Mrs. Bunting's mother, Mrs. O. G. Bitler. Mrs. Bunting's smooth, easy riding seems to always bring a like response from her horses. However, she and Gold Nugget proved their ability to climb when in order to win the novice jumper they had to jump off at 4'-6". Irish Lad, Ballantrae Stable, also with a clean performance was jumping against them but finished with a 1/2 fault more.

From then on the hunter show became a game of pinning ribbons on Mrs. Hugh Barclay's horses as they turned in one perfect performance after another with the clever capable rider, Billy Owens. In each of the next five hunter events they took all the 1sts, 4 of the 2nds and one 3rd. The brilliant Atakapa deservedly captured the blue in the model, the Thoroughbred and the

Hale's *Golden Hill Wins Ox-Ridge Hunt Club Championship

By James A. Tyler

The 17th Annual Ox-Ridge Hunt Club Horse Show, in Darien, Conn., which has long had a reputation for being one of the best hunter-jumper and horsemanship shows anywhere in New England, was held in a very successful renewal on June 22-23.

There was no one horse in either the hunter or jumper division that walked away with rosettes, although high class horses were competing for the blues. Two of the East's best show hunters, Joe Hale's *Golden Hill and James A. Tyler, Jr.'s Broadview Farms' Warrior, both which had distinguished themselves at Greenwich, were at it again and they had plenty more competition from Miss Blanche Clark's Lord Britain, that grand old champion, and Mrs. E. M. Carhart's great fencing chestnut gelding Lucky Buck.

*Golden Hill turned in some very nifty performances over the outside course with Stuart Lanham the rider up, to be crowned conformation hunter champion. The ever dependable Warrior, ridden by Miss Jean Leslie throughout—and she's never been riding better had one good round after another to gain reserve, just 1 1-2 points behind the leader.

Mr. Hale's other nicely mannered green horse, Willow Green, Shamrock, owned by W. Haggin Perry and Mrs. David Yandell's Dunkirk, were also present when the championship ribbons were delved out following the preliminary.

When the points were totaled up for the working tricolor a tie resulted between Chado, owned by Frank

D. Chapot and Miss Ethel Skakel's Guamada. The judges were asked to pick out the horse that they liked best and they decided that Chado was the better of the 2 which made him the champion and Guamada the reserve. There was many another good working hunter and a close scrutiny of the summaries will denote a good spread in the ribbons.

The championship hunter seat went to Miss Skakel, ahead of Miss Nancy Moran. Misses Pat Kelly, Zella Kunhardt, Corinne Hoffman (winner of the American Horse Show Medal) were other good winners.

The competition for the open jumpers was very stiff. After some really hot rounds Peg's Pride, Hutchinson Farm entry, and Miss Blanche Krupnick's Liberty Belle were the champion and reserve. Joey Ciancola broke out a new one in Thistle Dew. Jimmy Dalling, of Fairfield, was riding I. L. Winters' Easy Winner Jr., and other Winters horses.

Mrs. Carhart rode her own Lucky Buck to win the ladies', with owner rider Miss Blanche Clark going easily on her Lord Britain for 2nd.

*Golden Hill was matchless in the hunter hacks, stake and preliminary.

Keeneland Opening Tops All Forecasts

105 Yearlings Bring $1,115,000 First Day
As Two Fillies Are Bid In For $54,000
Exceeding War Feathers Record

All Sunday the pundits of the Thoroughbred yearling sales were pessimistic of the price averages to come this year at the Keeneland Summer Sales, which started on Monday, July 29 and ran through Thursday, August 1, in Keeneland's Race Course, near Lexington, Ky. The general consensus was that the prices for this year's yearling market in Kentucky would be off as much as 15 to 20 percent but when the gavel came down for the last time Monday evening 105 yearlings had brought $1,115,000 and pessimists were heard no more.

The first yearling to be offered was properly introduced by Joseph Palmer, well known turf writer and authority. "Out of a sister to the winner Delphi—a chestnut daughter of Questionnaire out of the *Sir Gallahad III mare which never raced—her first foal. Questionnaire was the sire of Requested, Free for All, Hash, Third Degree. This filly has engagements in 1947 Futurity, Matron Stakes, National Stallion Stakes, Pimlico Futurity, Marguerite Stakes, Selma Stakes, Breeders' Futurity and Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes". —With "what am I bid" from auctioneer George Swinebroad" the offers came quickly and Owsley Brown, of the Brown Forman Distillery and "Old Forester" Bourbon family of Louisville, Ky., was the final and decisive bidder at $6,000. And so the Keeneland Summer Sales were under way.

Provision had been made to accommodate 600 seated in the sales pavilion. All seats were taken. Interested bidders, buyers and spectators were que-ed up in aisle-ways, lined up outside the building to observe the proceedings through the windows. Bids were even coming from those who wanted racing stock who couldn't get in the pavilion—were standing in the area way along the roped aisles down which the yearlings were led to the ring.

In rapid-fire order during the first afternoon the alternating auctioneers, 'Doc' Bond and George Swinebroad, sold 55 yearlings for $547,100 for an average of $9,947. Compared to the 1945 averages for the first afternoon's vendue this average was comparable to the step-up in individual consignments. In 1945 50 head were sold for $306,700 averaging $6,134.

The bidding was rapid—there was no begging for bids. Fred Wyse, of Texas, was successful in obtaining 6 out of this first afternoon's lot for $42,200 as Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane, with her trainer, Preston Burch obtained two colts, an Unbreakable—Fairday, 1-2 brother to Fair Weather, stakes winner, for $32,000.

P. A. B. Widener's Elmendorf Farm's average for the 19 yearlings sold this year showed a relative increase in the whole sale's prices. Elmendorf Farm, under the capable management of Glen W. Tomlinson, got $284,000 for 19 yearlings for an average of $14,947. The 1945 average was $10,075.

The first evening's session was a history making one. Two of the 3 highest prices ever paid for Thoroughbred yearling fillies in America were recorded this evening after Mrs. Elizabeth Arden Graham was successful in a bidding duel on the gray filly by War Admiral—Danise

M., offering of Leslie Combs II's. The price of $54,000 paid for this filly and also bid for the *Blenheim II—La Chica filly, consigned by Lucas B. Combs, agent, exceeded by $3,500 the amount bid for the late

Thoughts Out Hacking

A Horseman Muses On People And Horses On His Way To A Horse Picnic Out Frankstown Hunt Way

Down familiar Scotch Valley this languorous Sunday morning, on our way to the Frankstown Horse Picnic. Nature seemingly as conscious of her allure as any other awakening beauty, but (possibly) more agreeable about it—certainly less demanding about the appreciation stuff—what started this all, anyway. The cardinal's challenging whistle now instead of the fox horn's "Gone Away"—which do you like?

Why don't the flies go sit on those cattle over there—last trip over this country, there weren't any flies—maybe we were moving faster. The riders' faces scarlet then, now umber. Beginning to think about food and liquids—yes, there're some dresses among the green of Bennett's Grove. The horses start looking at you "that" way when you untack. There's your hay, boy,—water soon.

There's Venatta and Blair Guyer with a tubfull of sumpin' wet. Mrs. Dick Crouse (Bucky, that is) has a clothes-basket for just Dick and daughter Frances and their guest Mary. Maybe Bucky figured a bit strong. Ned Maloy can't find his wife Natalie and his kids—says she has some friends in Toronto—may have stopped by a few minutes—nothing to worry about, tho. M. F. H. Fred Stormer a good feeder, don't you think. Boyd Cassidy goes back with the horses. Billy Maloy's a great help to all the kids—lots of kids to help, too: Guyer's Dick and little Blair-Maloy's Barbara, Kate and Charley—Bob Parks' Mary, Pat and Joe-Crouse's Frances—Swoope's Nancy, Hunter, Andy, Betsy and Matt-Phillips' Butch and Sam Calvin's granddaughter, Constance.

Bucky Crouse DID figure strong—we all get her very own orange cake. Let's see: hunting starts October 5 long time off, at that—have to settle for The Frankstown Ladies' Show 2 weeks from today. Altoona Horse Show August 31 and September 2—where's that prize list. Jaffa Shrine sponsoring—should be best yet.

George Gable's great chestnut, Highwayman, falling into the Juniata at Vipond's Wood when the river bank slid with him and George. Would sacrifice all our dreams of glory to have witnessed that. The chestnut's name is now Riverman. M. F. H. Stormer again chosen M. F. H., Frankstown. Paul Vipond home to-day attending to the hay-ing, where good farmers should be. Ann and Ed Masterson, are you around here. Twenty-three clumsy puppies now twenty-three lusty Hounds—can they go out fifty four times to equal last year's runs. The Alleghenies look heliotrope from here. That splendour you're looking at, horse, is all that's left of the sunset of a perfectly glorious day. —G. E. S.

Hunting Hares And Catching Sea Bass

By Philip K. Crowe

The week of July 13-20 was characterized by uniformly poor scenting weather but some of the best hound work that I have seen in a long time. The wind, that all important factor in island hunting, held steady from the land during the three days Mrs. Trimpi hunted, and it is axiomatic here that only a wind from the ocean holds scent on the downs. Instead of a grey fog, during which hounds seem tied to Puss' tail, the days were crystal clear with a burning sun that sucked up the line a few minutes after it was laid.

The best day of the three was Saturday, and all conditions were against the nine and a half couple of little hounds. We started late, 8:30 A. M., with a field of three and an aerial observer in the form of Mr. Trimpi who hovered helpfully over us in his plane but was not too successful in directing us to the line. A hare was jumped on the shore of one of the little ponds bordering the dunes and lit off across the moors with Barmid (despite her approaching maternity) in full cry and the rest of the pack after her. Running in a long circle the hare returned to the pond and laid her course along the beach.

Toiling slowly along the sand, the pack worked that cold line for almost an hour and finally pushed the hare up onto the downs again where she made good her escape. The interesting part of this hunt to me was the infinite patience of beagles. Fox hounds would have either cast themselves forward and lost the line or given it up, but the little hounds worried it along step by arduous step. Monitor and Bellman also did commendable work.

The sea bass are running in the shallows off Tuckernuck Island and on a non-hunting morning some of us decided to forget the Noble Science for a day and see how Isaac Walton would treat us. A boat was procured and in the grey dawn we set sail for the banks. Our equipment was light to say the least and consisted solely of three bass casting rods and ten pound strain line. The captain of the boat had sets of hand lines but we were not fishing for the market.

Arriving at the grounds, a long shoal off the low sandy island at the southern tip of Nantucket, we started trolling with lead lures and an unwarranted faith in the bass rods and line. The sun was up by then and the boat danced over the light blue water of the shoals, while myriads of sea-gulls hovered overhead to see the fun.

The first fish, whose mammoth weight I will never know, hit my plug and simply walked off with it and the line. In fact if I hadn't had a firm grip on my pole he would have eaten that too. It was no use, the tackle that would catch and land a 5 pound small mouth, was as futile against his ocean cousins as a bee-bee gun would be against an elephant. We took to the hand lines and by the end of the day had four good sea bass, averaging fifteen pounds each, and twenty mackerel.

For sprains bruises soreness...there's nothing like THOROUGHbred ABSORBENT LINIMENT!

Here's the liniment that helps keep in trim many of the country's famous horses. A favorite at track and stable for years—to speed up relief from wind puffs, windgalls, enlarged tendons, boggy hocks, sore joints and muscles. Does not blister. Trainers, breeders say it's the most effective liniment they've ever used. A "stable-mate" of Thoroughbred Strongylezine for worms.

Undulant Fever--It's Relation To Bang's

Is Bangs Disease Or Some Other Culprit The Cause For Growing Number Of Undulant Fever Cases?

by A. Mackay-Smith

Undulant fever, otherwise known as Malta fever or sleeping sickness, has, in the past few years, been increasing at a rate that is most alarming. It has been established that the cause is the Brucella organism, one type of which is the Brucella abortus, which causes Bangs disease in cattle the effect of which is to make cows abort their calves prematurely. Bangs disease is now the major problem of the pure-bred cattle business. The presence of the organism is easily detected by the agglutination test, but neither the test and slaughter method nor the "strain 19" vaccine have as yet made much headway in eradicating it. The various states have tried to control its spread through the passage of sanitary laws which are so conflicting that interstate commerce in pure-bred cattle is a headache.

It has generally been assumed that undulant fever is contracted by drinking raw milk from a cow infected with Bangs disease. For instance I happen to know of the case of one of the most able young County Agents in a neighboring state who came down with a case of undulant fever so severe that he had to resign his position. He had been drinking milk from a neighbor's cow which produced a normal calf regularly every year. The agglutination test revealed a titre of 1-1200, about ten times the virulence of the ordinary infection. It was universally assumed that Bangs disease was the cause of his illness; in fact he was subject to some criticism for not having had the cow tested before drinking her milk.

Was Bangs disease the real culprit? Until recently the answer would have been yes without question. During the past two years there have been at least two law suits by individuals affected with undulant fever against retail milk companies on the ground that the raw milk which they supplied came from Bangs infected herds and was therefore the source of the disease. The companies were held liable, in one instance for the amount of $7,500.

The relation between undulant fever and milk from Bangs infected cows is therefore of prime importance to the stockman, the retailer of milk and to everyone who drinks it. There are three types of Brucella organisms. The Brucella abortus which we have already discussed, the Brucella Melitensis which is found in goats and the Brucella suis which attacks hogs. Each has a preferred host as indicated above, but each will infect other animals as well as humans. The Melitensis organism is found in hogs and cattle and the suis type is found in all three. All three organisms have been found in humans.

Of the three organisms, humans are by far most susceptible to the suis type generally found in hogs. In Iowa 70 percent and in Alabama 72.6 percent of people affected with undulant fever have been found to be carrying Brucella suis organisms. Similar conclusions have been reached at Cornell University (New York) and Purdue University (Indiana).

When cows milk become infected, by reason of the udder coming in contact with hogs affected with Brucella suis, a major outbreak of undulant fever usually results. All the people involved in two serious outbreaks, which have recently occurred in Iowa, were found to be carrying the suis organism and, of the 24 sows which were being allowed to run with the dairy cows which supplied the milk they were drinking, 10 showed positive to the agglutination test. In the other case 4 out of 12 cows were affected. Moral: don't let hogs run with dairy cows.

By the same token Brucella abortus, the type found ordinarily in cattle, does not seem to be responsible, to any great extent, for the cases of undulant fever found in humans. Dr. George H. Conn, one of the most experienced veterinarians in the country in the care of Bangs disease, writes in a recent issue of "The Stockman" that during the past ten years he has had under his care several hundred herds heavily infected with Bangs disease, with the abortion rate running from 35 to 75 percent. Among the hundreds of individuals drinking raw milk from these herds only one came down with undulant fever during this period.

The evidence also establishes pretty clearly that, whatever the type of organism responsible for undulant fever, contact rather than drinking milk is the prime source of infection. In the island of Malta, where 15 percent of the goats are infected with Brucella Melitensis and 90 percent of the people consumed the milk in its raw state, only about 1-10 of 1 percent have undulant fever. On the other hand 10 percent of the butchers employed at an Indiana packing plant, all of which were handling nothing but hogs, came down with undulant fever. In Iowa it has been found that of the cases of undulant fever found in rural areas, 80 percent are in men and only 20 percent in women, figures which strongly suggest that contact rather than milk is the source responsible. 35 percent of the cases in urban areas are among packing house workers. Dr. Thurman Rice, health commissioner of the Indiana State Board of Health, states that there is no doubt whatever that a large percentage of the many farmers prematurely crippled

Professor Finds Good Wife Worth $69,000 On Farm

What is a good wife worth to a farmer? That depends, of course, on the point of view and on her capacity to fulfill her lord and master's demands—and some farmers are said to be very demanding, surrounded as they are by the manifestations of nature.

In this case, however, the point of view is purely financial. Not so long ago George A. Pond, Professor of Agricultural Economics at the University of Minnesota, undertook a study to determine the reasons for the varying degrees of efficiency with which a number of representative Minnesota farms are run. Assuming that all other factors are equal—quite an assumption—he averaged the incomes of the farms where the wives took an active part in the operations of the farm as against those where they did not.

When all the figures were in and multiplied by the number of years of life expectancy, he discovered that the difference was $69,000 in favor of the gals who tended the garden, milked the cows, raised a flock of chickens and attended to a few other little outside chores as well as to their household duties.

So, country boy, providing you can pick the right one, you will probably never put over as big or as profitable a financial deal in your life as when you succeed in leading her to the altar. Just try to pay some of it back to her through the years, in cash as well as in kind.

Polo In New England Stages Recovery

Play At Danvers And Pittsfield Draws Most Interest As Players Collect Ponies, Make Up Teams

By Cyrus F. Newbegin

Polo in New England is making slow recovery this year, and a few of the leading sportsmen in this field are laying a foundation which it is hoped will be more fruitful in the future.

Only a few enthusiasts kept their pre-war ponies in tack and some players seem reluctant to go into the market and buy a whole new string of mounts. Possibly high taxes, help problems, and the feed situation all contribute to a slow recovery at New England polo clubs.

The well known old time fields at Dedham, Hamilton and Westwood are idle this year for lack of sufficient interest, players, and possibly playable ponies. It is recalled that at none of these clubs was there an abundance of interest for a few years preceding the war.

Play started at Danvers, Mass. in the eastern part of the state and at Pittsfield, Mass., the western part about the middle of May. These two clubs have a game schedule which will run through the summer and include contests with the Farmington Valley club at Hartford, Conn., and with other possible games between Pittsfield and Westpoint, and one or two other New York state clubs.

The Pittsfield Polo Club under the leadership of Zenith C. Colt and Arthur Mason, Jr. probably has the most complete list of games of any team in New England with close rivalry with Danvers and Farmington Valley.

Among the leaders at Danvers are the three Poor brothers, Joseph, former P. M. C. player, Robert and William.

F. Forrester Clark of Myopia at Hamilton, Mass., hopes to become mounted this year looking forward to next season. Frederick Ayer also of Myopia hopes for more polo soon as do others there who now either have only one pony available or none at all.

Robert Almy of Dedham still hopes for a renewal of Polo at his club but reports that only one player there carried his ponies through the war period. Unfortunately the stable at this club was recently burned but without the loss of horses or hounds.

It is believed that a renewal of polo at Harvard would do much to give the game added enthusiasm in New England. This should be fairly easy as compared with former years, through the foresight and generosity of W. Cameron Forbes who has given his wonderful Westwood field and stables to the University.

Polo is sure to miss the activity of such men as Mr. Forbes and others who have dropped out of play during the past few years. However a few are still trying to lay a foundation this year which may help considerably later.

El Chico, considered by most horsemen the best of the 2 fillies consigned by the Combs'.

There was considerable tension in the audience as the red-roan grey Danise M., was led into the ring. Those in the yearling circles had been speculating on the prices these 2 fillies would bring and she was the 12th offering of the evening. Mrs. Graham put in a bid of $25,000 as the opener. There was rapid fire bidding in $1,000 raises after a competing bid put the price to $30,000.

The auctioneer brought considerable chuckles as he was closing it out at $54,000 and asked: "Does anyone else want to get in now?" Mr. Phipps went to $53,000 for this filly. It may be recalled that Mrs. Graham paid $16,000 for Eyes of Blue, 1-2 sister to this yearling, last year, who did not start as a 2-year-old and has been twice winner in 3 starts this year.

The La Chica filly's bidding was longer and more spasmodic. Several times it seemed that she was going to be knocked down for much less than her final price. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frankel were interested in her. After several stalls in the bidding, their $500 increases kept the bidding going. Mr. Phipps boosted his bids in solid $1,000 antes. The filly's opening bid was $10,000—just like that.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bromley's Cedar Farm was abetted with the addition of 6 yearlings during the day, with the expenditure of $71,500 in the 2 sessions. William Veeneman, well known turf owner of Louisville, Ky., bought 2 yearlings for $10,000 and $12,000 respectively, to go along with his good 2-year-old Tweet's Boy.

$750 stake. In the open, performance only to count, his stablemate Mt. Breeze, with a perfect working hunter round, nosed him out of 1st place. Both horses show brilliantly, taking their jumps in their stride. Mt. Breeze was 2nd in the stake. It was usually a question of which one the blue should be pinned on. In the 40-60 classes Atakapa won. Royal Reveille and Sonja 2nd, also Barclay hunters came in for their share of the winnings. Royal Reveille won the hack, was 2nd in the model, but Rysco, grand old campaigner owned by Mr. Anderson stepped ahead of him in the Thoroughbred. Sonja, 2nd, took 2nd money again in the hack.

It was difficult to decide whether the hunters or the open horses were liked better by the Lexingtonians. They may have leaned slightly toward the hunters, their true love being a typy horse. Nevertheless they proved their ability to suffer or thrill with any horse that made a valiant effort to put on a show. Once a chorus of booing arose when the crowd failed to understand a horse's being excused from the ring for missing his course.

Sun Beau, Mrs. Hugh Barclay's well known open jumper, upheld the stable's honor in the open events, winning the knockdown and out and the $750 jumper stake. However Reject owned by the Bonham Stables was the outstanding winner in this division, taking the blue in the scurry, the handy and the open. He was 2nd to Sun Beau in the stake.

The most thrilling class of the show for the spectators was the jumper stake. Twelve horses qualified in the eliminations. The first round of the class saw Sun Beau and Reject still clean over 10 stiff fences set on a narrow racetrack. All jumps in the entire show were without wings. After raising the fences and spreading the hog back, Sun Beau was still clean and Reject had rolled a partially hidden pole on the brush, placing them 1-2 in the order given. Surbaban Limited had a tick in the eliminations which placed him 3rd in the class, even though his performance at that time was clean. A tick in the open had also placed Surbaban 2nd to a clean performance. He seems to go cleaner when the jumps are higher.

The scurry was almost too grueling to be enjoyable. There were 7 fences in all in a small group, some staggered, some that had to be circled twice, most of them at 4'-6". The last one was a triple in-and-out. The endless turning and twisting made it difficult to make time and at the same time go clean. Reject, with a clean round done in 40 seconds was the winner. He was ably ridden by Chester Bonham. A clever, bold little roan, Frosty Morn, owned by Joe Sciortino, in spite of a front knockdown, turned in the next best score of 43 1-2 points.

In the handy, Reject again gave a perfect performance. The same course was used as in the scurry, but the jumps were set farther apart and the 4 horses that took the ribbons gave clean handy shows. Mrs. Barclay's Cauja was 2nd, Ballantrae Boy was 3rd, Sun Beau was dropped to 4th place. His jumping was clean and handy but he was penalized for

Classic Races In Chicago And California Explode Form Of Assault And Honeymoon

Last Saturday two of the immense money prizes of this inflation era were decided—and in each case—as has come to be the custom—the result was a staggering reversal of form and a shock to those who believe that form, as such, means much of anything in the modern American racing scheme.

The two events in question were the Classic, for three-year-olds, value $95,650, run at Arlington Park, Chicago; and the Hollywood Gold Cup a handicap for three-year-olds and over, $100,000 added money, run at Hollywood, Cal.

The former was won by The Dude, upon whom a two-dollar mutuel ticket paid the holder $15.00.

The heavily-backed favorite, Assault, previous winner of this season's "Triple Crown" of Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes, whose odds were 7 to 10, ran last in the field of six, beaten ten or a dozen lengths.

The heavily backed second choice, Lord Boswell, whose odds were 2 1-2 to 1, ran next to last, having never at any stage of the race been any nearer the front.

Second money was won by Sergeant Spence at 45 1-2 to 1; third by Mighty Story, at 20 to 1, and fourth by Athenia at 23 to 1.

In other words, such a complete overturning of supposed class was seldom, if ever before beheld in a great stake race of such value and prestige as the Classic, even though in the past it has been several times won by "rank outsiders."

While the backers of the placed horses screamed like Comanches and beat each other frenziedly upon their backs, the "talent" and the backers of Assault and Lord Boswell looked as if suddenly turned to stone in a paralysis of discomfiture.

The time, 2:02 3-4, over a track lightning fast, was a disappointment, the record of the event being 2:01 2-5, held jointly by Omaha (1925) and Shut Out (1942).

The winner, well worthy of his name, as he is a very jaunty and shapely little colt, led all the way and won by 1 1-4 lengths, carrying 119 lbs. He was ridden by M. Duhon, a little-known but capable jockey.

He is a cast-off from the stable of the movie magnate, L. B. Mayer, who last season weeded him out of it via a claiming race, when he passed to his present owner-trainer, A. Gaal, for the sum of $4,000. He was also bred by Mr. Mayer and is by his English horse Alibhai and out of Donatrice, likewise imported, by Monatello II.

Letter From New York

By Paul Anthony

Two instances of why racing does not always have the very best press in the world have come to light today as the fashioner of these lines begins the pleasant job of packing for Saratoga. If you have kept pace at all with the turf press, as they may call it in England for all that I know, during the early part of the year, you will remember that there was much bitter criticism of New York for daring to offer stakes of as little value as $10,000.

So, for the Autumn meetings at Aqueduct, Belmont, Jamaica and Empire City, the various associations raised the ante on stakes by more than $200,000 and established the second richest purse in New York and one of the richest in the country when they made The Gallant Fox at Jamaica, to be run October 26, worth $75,000.

Forgetting the Press

All of this was an excellent move and worth a real story in the papers. But nobody thought to notify their press agent or to let him in on the secret until Jack Campbell had sent to the printer the complete list, received the results of that worthy's efforts and mailed them broadcast over the nation. An alert reporter for the Racing Form, the ancient hardboot Chuck Connor, found one of the lists lying about the secretary's office and, knowing a story when it struck him between the eyes, spread it all over the front page of the trade papers, thus destroying its news value for all the other papers.

Slightly Premature

And there was, shortly afterward, a statement issued by the Turf Bureau of Protection, or whatever it is they call the newly formed Spencer Drayton outfit, which consists of ex-FBI young men. This statement said that they had furnished facts developed by the bureau concerning "charges" against certain jockeys to the Florida State Racing Commission. The statement added this was in connection with the running of the fifth race at Tropical Park on April 17, 1946.

There followed the interesting further facts that, they said, finding these "facts" required trips to New York, Miami, Louisville, Toronto, Montreal, Detroit, Chicago, Boston and Los Angeles. These agents get around.

The statement did not specify what the charges were, nor what the facts were. When, later in the day, the Florida Racing Commission announced it had "no comment," there was a slightly Alice in Wonderland touch to the entire thing.

This was the earth shaking "jockey scandal" the Broadway columnists had been hinting at in their columns for some weeks. It may be that, by the time these lines see the light of

Sole *Sir Gallahad III Yearling Among Those Consigned From Morven

Morven is sending to Saratoga what is perhaps its best crop for several years. Frank Hills, who manages this, as well as many others of the Stone interests with effortless efficiency, showed us 'round and a good show it was. Of the colts I particularly liked the chestnut by Tintagel out of Cavatina, dam of the good winner Big Raid. This is a deep bodied, powerful colt, with excellent legs and feet, in fact difficult to fault. He has a long, springy stride and an alert manner that marks him as a promising race horse.

There is another chestnut by Stimulus, one of his last crop, and out of Heedful by *Sir Gallahad III. This is a big rangy colt, a little on the rough side, but a durable sort. The bay by Tintagel out of Plucky Polly, also by *Sir Gallahad III, and the dam of 2 winners, is the sprinter type, heavily muscled with a straightish shoulder and low withers. He should win early.

The chestnut by *Rhodes Scholar is out of Raynham Rose by Stimulus, a mare that is the dam of the stakes winner Gold Pomp and 5 other winners. He is a picture horse, a bright chestnut with 4 white stockings, very big and handsome and with immense bone. Foaled April 25th, he weighed just 1000 pounds last July 1st. He will certainly attract a lot of attention at sale time.

First on the list of fillies is the bay by Fenelon out of the stakes winner Blind Play. All her 5 foals to race have been good winners of many races. This is a well balanced, useful filly that looks as though she would stand a lot of wear and tear—a good investment as a racing or broodmare prospect.

The bay by *Sir Gallahad III is the only filly by that great sire to be sold at either Saratoga or Keeneland this year—and may possibly be the last to be sold at public auction. She is out of Blue Sheen, winner of the Acorn and other stakes, and dam of two winners. Although she is dipped in the back and is not the straightest of walkers, Mr. Hills says

Eight Yearlings In Consignment From Hewitt's Montana Hall

Last year Abram Hewitt, Montana Hall, Boyce, Virginia, bred 8 yearlings. Five started and of the 5, 4 were winners, one of these a stake winner, 3 placed in a stake, and 1. Phalanx, in a recent race at 6 furlongs ran the last 1-4 mile in 23 seconds flat. This colt is by Pilate—Jacola and a survey of the charts show that Whirlaway's best form as a 2-year-old for the same distance was 23:2.

This year Mr. Hewitt has 4 Pilates, a *Mahmoud, a bay colt by Heather Broom, a chestnut colt by Opera Hat—Day Spring, by Zeppelin he is sending to Saratoga for Thursday night, August 15. Perhaps the most interesting from a breeder's angle is the *Mahmoud, a gray filly out of Planetoid, she by Ariel which is half-that she is usually out in front in paddock gallops. She is quite apt to transfer this habit to the race track.

The bay filly by Flares out of the young Pompey mare Frilled, which is already the dam of a winner, is a rangy lassie with a quality head and an excellent shoulder. She walks as well as anything in the whole consignment. Another Flares filly is the bay out of Pomana also by Pompey. She is a sharp looking filly with a quality head, rather level in the croup and straight in the shoulder, but racy looking.

Last of all there is the bay by Fenelon out of Riva by *Wrack, dam of Pomiva ($33,990 through 1945), Vanscout (21 wins) and 4 other good winners. This is a big filly, a little on the plain side, but with a fine shoulder and a good set of legs, a very useful sort.

And finally, to end up with, we had another horse show, in the beautiful manor house of Morven, with its two marble mantels sent by Jefferson from Paris. This was put on by no less a personage than Herring, some of the finest of whose horse pictures are gathered under this roof. It made a very pleasant ending to a most interesting day.

sister to the unbeaten 2-year-old El Chico. This *Mahmoud filly is on very sound looking legs, is a youngster of good depth. Her dam was a winner of 5 races at 2 and from the quality and looks of her offspring, she should do even better than Planetoid which succeeded in winning among the 5 races the Jeanne d'Arc Stakes.

The most impressive looking colt and, particularly interesting now, after the French *Ksar horses cleaned up the English Ascot week so convincingly, is a chestnut colt by Pilate—Composure, by *Ksar. This colt, an exceedingly free walker, as tall as he is long, is a brother to Prefect winner of 5 races and $24,200. He would not run as a 2-year-old but has come on steadily in his 3 and 4-year-old years, winning the Southern Maryland Handicap among his other wins in '46. This colt is built to stay.

Breeders' Notes

Grand Admiral

From automatic starting gates to photo finish Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's Brookmeade Stable's homebred War Admiral son, Grand Admiral, spread-eagled the field in the 33rd running of the East View Stakes of $25,000 added at Jamaica, Saturday, July 20. Mrs. Sloane was there herself to accept the trophy from Miss Beatrice MacGuire, daughter of Empire City Racing Assn., vice-president, Dr. Philip F. MacGuire, as trainer Preston M. Burch beamed. Grand Admiral is out of the young mare Grand Flame, by Grand Time, bred by Mrs. David Buckley. He trounced a good field, which included I Will, the favorite, bred by Elmendorf Farm, son of Roman and the Abram S. Hewitt-bred Pilate son, Phalanx, out of that great mare Jacola. Phalanx ran 3rd in the colors of C. V. Whitney and closed fast. This was the 3rd race of Grand Admiral's career, his 1st being a winning effort in a maiden race at Belmont on May 30.

Hertzes In California

Word has it that Mr. and Mrs. John D. Hertz have purchased a farm in the San Fernando Valley, where they intend to winter a number of mares, yearlings from the sales and stand the young sire Count Gallahad. This son of *Sir Gallahad III, sire of more than 30 winners, including the stakes winner La Reigh, is out of the Luke McLuke mare, Anita Peabody. Mr. and Mrs. Hertz operate their Stoner Creek Stud, near Paris, Ky., where they stand Reigh Count and Count Fleet. "An even dozen yearlings" the Hert-zes are offering at the Keeneland Summer Sales, including 4 by Reigh Count, 3 by *Blenheim II, 3 by Count Gallahad, a Tiger and a Grand Slam.

Burning Dream

No sooner had the King Brothers, of Los Angeles, Calif., purchased Burning Dream, a 4-year-old Bradley-bred stakes winner, than they loaded him aboard an aeroplane and in 14 hours he was at Hollywood Park. R. H. McDaniel will train the Bimelech colt, out of By Mistake, heading him for the Sunset Handicap at Hollywood Park on August 3. Burning Dream spanned the nation quicker than any other horses shipped by air.

War Kilt To *Easton

Samuel D. Riddle sent his Demoselle winner, War Kilt to the court of F. Wallis Armstrong's *Easton, which stands at Meadowview Farm, near Moorestown, N. J. War Kilt is a daughter of Man o'War, sprung from Friar's Carse.

Sir Damions

Now that Witch Sir, Pellicle and Galla Damion have brought such credit to their sire, Sir Damion, it is likely that considerable bidding will be done on the Elmhurst Farm Sir Damion fillies, to be sold at the Saratoga Sales, by T. Owen Campbell, on the night of Tuesday, August 13. These yearlings will come from Mr. Campbell's Kentucky farm.

Historian's Neck

Warren Wright's champion hand-capper had 130 lbs., up in the Arlington Handicap, of 1 1-4 mi., last Saturday and the verdict after the record breaking race was Woolford Farm's Historian 1st, by a neck and Armed 3 lengths the next best. Discovery's old record, set in 1935, of 2:01 1-5 was shaved to 2:01 flat. The Missouri-bred son of Lawrin, bred by Herbert M. Woolf, from a Messenger mare, Mea, had an 18 lb. pull in the weights from Armed, in at 112. Back in March at Tropical Park Armed was able to give the Missouri-bred 18 lbs., and beat him a neck in 1 1-8 mi., when he equalled his own track record for the distance of 1:48 3-5.

Last Of Stimulus

There are 9 sons and daughters of Stimulus, that great son of Ultimus which has terminated his career on this planet, going to the Keeneland Summer Sales. Arthur B. Hancock is presenting 4 of these in his consignment, 2 of them out of Gallant Fox mares. The Warner L. Jones, Jr.s, are consigning one out of that well known *Bull Dog mare, Cash Book and Edward D. Axton's *Monk's Way mare, Pretty Sis has a yearling filly by Stimulus. Horatio Mason, Charles A. Asbury, and Charles Nuckols also are consigning some of the last of the Stimulus crop.—At the Saratoga Sales Morven Stud will present a chestnut son of Stimulus—Heedful, by Be Careful. This is the only Stimulus to be sold at Saratoga. He is bred similar to Beau-gay, Stir Up and Merry Lassie and is out of a half-sister to Nation's Taste.

Bonsal's 1-2

Mingled emotions is the department of understatement for Frank A. "Downy" Bonsal, Jr.'s feelings as he watched New Moon take over from The Doge at the 1-2 mile and then the pair battle it out to a 1-2 length finish in the Inaugural Running of the Atlantic City Handicap, of $10,000. Mr. Bonsal, Jr., well known gentleman rider in his time and keen foxhunting member of Green Spring Valley Hunt, had saddled both Harry L. Straus' New Moon and Pentagon Stable's The Doge for Atlantic City's premiere. This proved an owner-bred triumph for Mr. Straus, head of Tropical Park, M. F. H., of Carrollton Hounds (Md.), and vice-pres., and treas., of the American Totalisator Co. Mr. Straus maintains a Thoroughbred nursery at his Maryland farm and thus was able to get his *Sickle matron, Ladyinthemoon, to Alfred Vanderbilt's good Discovery.

Churn Creek Yearlings

Wayne Johnson's Churn Creek Farm, Worton, Md., is sending 4 yearlings to the Saratoga Sales this August. The filly by Pompey that is out of *Alicia W., by Salmon Trout, she the half sister to Forty Winks, is tall, light and reminiscent of her sire. The Tintagel filly that Churn Creek is offering is out of Coconino, by *Sun Briar. She is a nice sort, looking the type to come to hand early, being well muscled and speedy looking. Churn Creek's Stagehand colt out of Tige's Echo, by Equipoise, is a strongly made, well balanced sort with plenty of bone and substance. He is one which will need time to come to his best, it appears. A colt owned in partnership with M. Russell Dock is the sturdy, rugged colt by Lucky Omen out of Chatelet, by Chatterton, a good producer.—Humphrey Finney.

Keeneland Sales

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frankel were bidding on several, were successful with a $33,000 bid on the War Admiral—Miss Brief, by *Sickle filly, sister to the winner Cable which ran 3rd in this year's Belmont Stakes. They did not have their trainer Sarge Swenke with them, in that he had to remain with his stable, due to sickness in the barn. Mr. and Mrs. Frankel are very keen and were one of the higher bracket spenders of the 1945 sales.

Mrs. Barclay Douglas, of Mill River Stable, had Dr. Cassius Way and her trainer Horatio Luro with her to inspect yearlings and bought an Eight Thirty colt for $20,000, 1-2 brother to Shuffle. They sat together, 1-2-3, in the same row with Mrs. Sloane and Mr. Burch and Mrs. Henry Gerry with her 2 "yearling snoopers", Oleg Dubassoff and Joseph Flannigan. Emile Schwarzhaupt was back again, bidding and buying, being successful in 2 duels and in obtaining the Creekview Farm (Tollie Young) bay daughter of *Hypnotist II—Vagrant, by Man o'War, for $13,000. His last $500 bid got this filly.

John H. Clark's horse agency was busy. Representing clients in the first 2 sessions he was listed for 3 purchases.

Mrs. du Pont Weir, with trainer James E. Ryan, bid to $10,000 to get a colt named Vee E Dee, bred by Mr. Widener's Elmendorf, by Roman—*Jezebel II. Last year the Bull Lea—*Jezebel II colt, today named Jezros, brought $40,000. He was a winner of $2,812 in 1945.

Leslie Combs II sold 5 yearlings for $130,600 and an average of $26,120, this year against 7 for $92,000 to average $13,143 last year. A. B. "Gus" Gay got $40,100 for 3, averaging $13,366. His Bull Lea advertising brought results. Harry B. Scott, the Man o'War mare breeder, got only $65,000 for 4, to average $16,250, against $56,500 for 3 last year for an average of $18,833.

A complete summary of the entire Keeneland Summer Sales will be given in The Chronicle and notes on the final 6 sessions, together with averages will be consolidated in a later issue.

High lights of the sale during the first day was the success Mr. and Mrs. A. A. "Sandy" Baldwin had with their consignment of 3. They obtained $12,600 for the trio. The autumn like weather which held throughout the week-end did not necessitate the operation of the new air-conditioning machine set up for the comfort of the bidders in the sales-pavilion.

day, Florida or someone else will have said something more about the entire thing. But, for a while, at any rate, racing was in the position of feeding fuel to the fires of scandal. If the case was not ready for disposition or action, it should never have been publicly mentioned at all. If it was ready, the complete and full facts should have been brought out, in the original statement.

Saratoga Improvements

Oh well, back to Saratoga for four weeks, and it looked very pleasant up there on a pre-view arranged by a thoughtful management for visiting firemen of the press the week before the track threw open its doors to the public.

One feature of the plant could be well copied by other tracks, and that's the recreation center in the backstretch. Here is a house, with a big center hall in which there are billiard and pool tables, a canteen with cigarettes, candy and stationery, off of it is a reading and writing room.

In the rear is a swimming pool, reached through a shower and locker room where towels and soap are furnished for ten cents and in front is a cafeteria, with counters and tables and Mrs. McLaughlin's cooking.

In the background is a boxing ring, and twice a week amateur bouts are held. The entire thing adds up to a very sensible effort to give exercise boys and stable hands a decent place to round out their living.

American Saddle Colt

BEAU DARE, by Pers Crowell
Published by Whittlesey House
McGraw Hill Book Company, N. Y.

By Margaret Lane

Pictures of horses in action are always welcome fare to a horseman. Pers Crowell's drawings in his book, Beau Dare, give every conceivable equine attitude and movement. Telling the story of a young saddle horse, the book gives many pithy, although elemental leads to horse management, schooling, breaking and training.

Beau Dare follows the life of an American saddle colt from birth through his first year, and although the story of one particular horse it could well be that of many others of his kind.

It tells of the care and patience which must be used when starting to make or break a colt. At the age of one week a halter is put on and we continue from there with suggestions and pointers for teaching the horse to lead, tie, and be saddled.

Food and living conditions are outlined as well as rules for exercise all of paramount importance to a young colt if he is to develop well. "Horse sense" from his owner, when in the stable or paddock as well as when mounted, too often noted by its absence, is well outlined.

This would be an excellent book for the boy or girl who has their "very own" horse for the first time and should do much to help them understand better its care and handling. The author has brought out well the point that a horse, although extremely intelligent, is at the same time instinctively self-protective and should be treated as the sensitive animal with the long memory that he is.

The illustrations are beautifully executed and should appeal to all. Every page is decorated with "spot" drawings and as well there are many full pages in color.

Beau Dare will make a delightful addition to any horse lover's library.

W. H. La Boyteaux Pipette Painted By Allen Brewer

W. H. La Boyteaux' Pipette is a home bred son of Piping Rock—Highclere, bred at Mr. La Boyteaux' Hop Creek Farm, Holmdel, N. J. She was the winner of the first stake race to be run in Northern New Jersey since 1893 and carried off the $10,000 Colleen Stakes for 2 year old fillies, at Monmouth Park.

The frontispiece was painted by one of the most accomplished of the younger equine artists, Allen F. Brewer, Jr., of Avon by the Sea, N. J. Mr. Brewer who studied at Yale University's School of Fine Arts and graduated in 1942 with a BFA degree has been painting horses since his earliest days in Texas where he was brought up with horses and once, emulating the example of the famous George Stubbs, dissected a horse and sketched over 1,000 anatomical studies in order to learn muscular and bone construction.

During his career in the Army Air Forces, Mr. Brewer was constantly sketching his favorite equine themes. Some of his latest works are Deanna, Gibson White's winter book favorite for the Hambletonian, Joseph Dushock's grey Mahmoudess, Lookout Dice, winner of the $10,000 Lamplighter Handicap for Lookout Stock Farm, Stymlie painted for Jockey Permane, and Black Warbler of M. J. Hogan's, Louisville, Ky. Mr. Brewer is just finishing a painting of Rounders for William Helis, Jobstown, N. J.

During the work on Pipette with Jockey Tommy May up, the construction was still going on at Monmouth Park and Mr. Brewer had a continual circle of onlookers made up of the workmen on the track who never ceased to give him tips on how to paint.

Hewitt Yearlings

A big, strong colt by Heather Broom—Clean Out, by Pompey, is an interesting offering as Clean Out, foaled in 1932, won a total of 16 races. The colt, a bay, has a strong shoulder and straight hocks but is an exceptionally powerful individual.

Personally this writer liked a bay colt by Pilate—Gay Amazon, by Happy Time, a very good, free mover with a long top line. The colt looked as if he would develop early, is a trifle over at the knees, is somewhat higher in the quarters than at his withers and an excellent frame over all. He is a fine racing prospect with a head and neck of rare quality.

The first of the two Pilate fillies to be offered by Mr. Hewitt is a bay out of High Caste, by *Ksar, a late foal, very nicely balanced with an exceedingly alert eye, an excellent set of legs. The filly is one of those individuals seeming to walk on hidden springs, quick and wide awake and in superb condition. The second Pilate filly is out of Greeny, a filly of fine range and scope which descends from Chelandry a great race mare of Lord Roseberry's stud and one of the best females lines in England. Greeny herself is a winner of 11 races and a producer of winners.

The final offering in the consignment owned by Mr. Hewitt and David Novick is a flashy chestnut colt, heavily muscled with a tremendous forearm. A typical early sprinter, the colt is by Opera Hat—Day Spring, by Zeppelin whose sire and dam were both early winners, winning in their 2 and 3-year-old years. Mr. Hewitt who once shared with Kenneth Gilpin the honor of the top price at Saratoga has a uniform lot, in fine condition. The continued impressive performance of Pilate at stud, (three stakes winners in 1946) should make this consignment one of the highest averages in the sale.

Notes From Great Britain

By J. Fairfax-Blakeborough

Foxhounds May Be Colour Blind; Horses Being Butchered In England; Cleveland 'Chasers

Some time ago there was an interesting discussion as to whether fox hounds could and did, differentiate between a scarlet coat and that of any other colour. Some of us were quite convinced that hounds do know a red coat and that, in the event of none of the uniformed Hunt staff being present at a check, or at the end of a run, a pack would be much more responsive to a sportsman in pink than one in a black, or other coloured coat. We were a little nonplussed, however, by the statement of an authority that all dogs are colour blind. Personally I didn't believe this, and I don't believe it now. My own dogs know quite well what it means when I appear in riding breeches, or certain clothes associated in their minds with the gun, walks, and so on. I have returned to the subject because of an interesting passage I read the other day in the life of Mr. Hodgson, an ex-Master of the Holderness Hunt. He had previously had the Badsworth and left Yorkshire to take the Quorn. It is recorded:

"Mr. T. Hodgson adopted a peculiar costume, when in Leicestershire as a Master of Hounds, by wearing a brown instead of a scarlet coat. This he was said to have chosen because, having hunted his hounds in person when in the Holderness country, they should not recognise their former huntsman when that trust was deputed to another."

The St. Leger

After Ascot French Turfites are quite hopeful that they will capture the St. Leger with Nirgal, which, we are told "is being specially trained for the Doncaster classic". So is Lord Durham's White Jacket at Middleham! France may have more surprises for us, but it is not wise to allow the French Ascot triumphs, and those at Epsom and Hurst Park, to make us imagine that our English bloodstock is all inferior to that across the channel. French horses have won big races in England before, but more of them have been beaten than have won. They must always be something in the nature of "dark horses" to our handicappers and to the rank and file on the English Turf. We are told that Sayani, (beaten in the Royal Hunt Cup but winner two days later of the Jersey Stakes), is not in the same class in France as Nirgal. Be it so, we really know nothing of the latter horse, but we DO know that White Jacket ran very well in the Derby (for he was not fancied), and that he is going on well in his preparation for the St. Leger, for which he is training.

Horse Breeding Notes

A friend of mine who has done much for horse breeding, astounded me the other day by his reply to a query as to how many mares he had got to a certain stallion. He said "In one district in which I expected to do well, farmers are not breeding this year. Owing to shortage of grass, keep, and labour a lot of them sent their foals to an annual sale and were disgusted to find that all foals which made no more than 14gs or 15gs were bought to be slaughtered for human consumption. That killed their enthusiasm and several of them have told me that they'll not breed horses for butcher's meat".

Speaking of stallions reminds me that Miss Ruth Kitching of Fryup Hall, has had to sell her Cleveland Bay stallion Aerobatic, because the fence is not made which will keep him in a paddock. Several times he went steeplechasing across country, so she parted with him to Mr. Tom Boyes of Castleton, who usually has a good point-to-pointer and show jumper in his stable. His intention was to cut him and enter him for jumping competitions. On the day he was to be unsexed Messrs. Keenleyside brothers, arrived at Fryup Hall with some mares, having this season had a first rate foal by Aerobatic. They were told where the stallion was located and warned that he might already be a gelding. However, they arrived in time, bought the stallion and took him home to Forest Farm, Scorton, near Richmond, to use on their Cleveland Bay mares and others in their district. There is, of course, nothing unusual in a Cleveland Bay being a good fencer, for many half-Cleveland, half Thoroughbred, have been brilliant to hounds, and one so bred won many steeplechases and was placed in the Grand National.

Brambles Scores In Hunter Stakes At Grand Rapids

By Whippie Huebner

Mrs. Fitzgerald, of Holland, Mich. gave her mother's Brambles a beautiful ride to win the hunter stake at the Grand Rapids Horse Show on June 14-15-16. P. T. Cheff, also of Holland, riding his smart looking gray mare placed 2nd, with Douglaston Manor Farm's Atakapa 3rd, Hasty House Farm's Hasty Lassie and Korzie 4th and 5th. Another Cheff entry, Pilot was 6th.

The corinthian found Hasty Lassie, ridden and owned by Mrs. A. E. Rueben of Toledo, Ohio, on top, Hasty Lassie also won the ladies and lightweight. Douglaston Manor Farm with their Mountain Breeze accounted for the blue in green hunter and won the middleweight with Atakapa. Mrs. Rueben's Little Joe won the jumper stake and 2nd in the open, with Douglaston Manor Farm's Sun Beau 2nd in the stake and their Canja winning the knockdown and out.

There was the 2d in a series of hurdle races which Carter Brown of Castle Park is promoting. These races are more interesting each time. This was one of the most exciting races with all horses well matched. It was anyone's race with first one and then another taking the lead until the winner crossed the finish line. An entry of Paul Butler's took the lead until after the 4th fence, then Judge's Daughter, owned by Root L. Leighton, came from 2nd to take the lead, with Gallant Laddie running 3rd, and pushing his way to 2nd place over the 6th fence; then up with Judge's Daughter, taking the lead over the last fence to finish a length ahead, the Butler entry coming in 3rd.

Christopher Wadsworth, well-known and equally well liked judge of Kenmore, N. Y., was judge of hunters and jumpers. Mr. Wadsworth invited L. F. Caulfield of Hinsdale, Ill., a registered junior judge and one of the officials of the Oak Brook Horse Show, to assist in the judging.

Son Of Pilate, Daughter Of Tintagel In Nydrie Sales Lot

When you think of Virginia broodmares you think of Heloise and when you think of Heloise you think of Nydrie. The grand old mare (by Friar Rock), dam of 6 stakes winners, including Tintagel, Dinner Date and Sgt. Byrne, has just had her portrait painted by Jean Bowman and will soon appear on the cover of "The Blood Horse". This year she sends as her emissary to Saratoga a dark bay filly by the very successful sire of speed, Menow. There will be fillies there with more size and bone and that are flashier to look at. But Heloise's daughter is sound, walks like a race horse and has prospective value as a broodmare.

The bay filly by Flares out of Broad Ripple by Stimulus is a half sister to Rippey, 1st horse to beat Assault this year, and winner of the Churchill Downs Derby Trial and the Skokie Handicap. She is a big, heavily muscled filly, with the emphasis on durability rather than beauty. However, if she runs in front (and the chances are all in favor of it) she will be plenty good looking enough for all her connections.

There is a very lovely filly by Tintagel out of *Highland Dell, dam of the stakes winner White Tie. This is a smooth, well balanced filly that stands over a lot of ground with a fine shoulder. The bay filly by *Rhodes Scholar out of Melodiana by Gallant Fox is a half sister to 4 winners. Of particular note is her deep heart girth and fine withers.

The bay colt by *Jacopo is out of Gallant Lady (by *Sir Gallahad III) the dam of 7 winners. This colt certainly has the top and shoulder to continue the family tradition. Last and best to look at in the Nydrie consignment is the dark bay colt by Pilate out of Compomac, sister to the stakes winner Goya. This is a big, well-balanced horse, with excellent slope of shoulder, perfect legs and feet and a straight walker.

Nydrie is also fitting for the sales a chestnut colt by Tintagel out of Hation, a tall, rangy, big-boned colt that will need a little time to come to himself. Jack Carpenter has them in show condition with as much finish as I have seen in any lot this year. The whole layout at Nydrie is most attractive, buildings that are good to look at yet thoroughly practical, creosoted board fences, a restful change after the everlasting white, and excellent pastures with surrounding woodlands.

Farming

with rheumatism and arthritis are in this condition because of undulant fever.

Here are a few rules to be followed. Don't keep nanny goats unless you are in the goat business. Don't let hogs run with your dairy cows. If you are in close contact with hogs give them an agglutination test at regular intervals. Test your cows regularly. They may be carrying sulis or Melitensis organisms, even if they are free from the abortus type. If so they are doubly dangerous. Finally, when you are away from home and don't know about the milk you are drinking, better stick to the pasteurized variety, even if it doesn't taste much. When undulant fever is in the picture its not worth while taking chances.

A short time before the Classic he had won an overnight event at Arlington Park, running a mile under 120 lbs. in the very fast time of 1:35 4-5 and it was expected that he would be the pace-maker in the Classic—but emphatically NOT that he would "go all the way."

As for the Hollywood Gold Cup, much newspaper glamor had been thrown around it by its value, its environment, and the fact that the Kansas City gelding Historian, winner the previous Saturday at Arlington Park, of the $50,000 Arlington Handicap, was flown by airplane to Hollywood between the two races, arriving there but two days before the Cup was contested.

This was the first time anything of that kind had been attempted, and the outcome of the experiment was awaited by turfmen with much interest.

Historian had won the Arlington Handicap by virtue of being "tossed into it" at but 112 lbs.; which enabled him to beat the favored top weight, Armed (130 lbs.) by a neck in a scorching finish. His weight for the Gold Cup was 117 lbs., or 5 lbs. additional, but even at that it looked much in his favor and the expert idea was that he should win unless his aerial experiences had taken the edge off him.

The favorite for the race, however, was the grand three-year-old filly Honeymoon, from the Mayer stable, she having been the heroine of a series of brilliant victories on the California tracks through the late winter, spring and summer thus far. Her weight was 113 lbs. at which, under the scale, she was conceding Historian 17 lbs.

After the pace had been made for her all through the early running by her stable-mate, Be Faithful, she came forward in the home stretch and looked to be winning but was run down in the last 100 yards by the long-shot Triplicate, a five-year-old carrying the same weight as herself, and to which she was conceding, under the scale, 21 lbs., he winning by a neck, while Historian ran third, a head behind Honeymoon.

The time was sensationally fast, 2:00 2-5, the fastest ever made authentically at the distance in America, and just equaling that of last year's Gold Cup winner, Challenge Me, he having then been a four-year-old and carrying 108 lbs.

Triplicate was bred in Kentucky, at the Great Elmendorf Stud by its then owner, the late J. E. Widener, and is by-Reigh Count—Fair Day, by Fairplay.

He had been a cheap sort of a racer, with little to recommend him, until last March at Santa Anita he turned up a surprise winner of a $50,000 handicap. In this event he carried 111 lbs. and won by five lengths in a canter, breaking the track record for a mile and a half, which he lowered from 2:29 1-5 to 2:28 2-5. Since then he had failed to distinguish himself in various efforts and was at 17 to 1. He is owned by the dancer, Fred Astaire and was ridden by Basil James, his trainer being C. Phillips.

Field Marshal Lord Wilson

At a dinner given in honor of Field Marshal Lord Henry Maitland Wilson, held Tuesday, July 23, at the United Nations Club in Washington, D. C., host Harry Newman rounded together enthusiasts of foxhunting and horse shows gathered from Maryland, Pennsylvania and Virginia. The Field Marshal in expressing his appreciation for the occasion, spoke of how necessary it is to sustain the interest of foxhunting among the younger generation that they will carry on. He told of how England survived the war with the spirit of sport carried on through pony clubs. "These clubs kept interest of the young entry alive, which will carry us into a future when everyone thinks in terms of mechanical vehicles". Field Marshal Wilson told of how he had found jackal hunting in Iraq, a pack of hounds in Rome and of how sport was carried on in many lands during the war. "Like Melville put it: 'The best of my life I owe to horse and hound', and what sport is there that produces more humour than hunting". The Field Marshal is in this country as the senior British representative on the Combined Chiefs of Staff and is the Prime Minister's personal representative to President Truman on defense matters.

"Mr. Truman Calling"

F. Moran McConihe, well known member of Potomac Hunt was one of the 25 foxhunters present at Harry Newman's dinner. Not until Mr. McConihe saw Humphrey Finney, field secretary of the Maryland Horse Assn., at the dinner did he understand a telephone call he had received recently. He thought the operator said: "Mr. Truman is calling, can you tell me how to reach Mr. Humphrey Finney?"

Back To The Soil

Dr. James Asa Shield, M. F. H., Deep Run Hunt, speaking at the dinner honoring Field Marshal Lord Henry Maitland Wilson told of his interest in reading Sir Albert Howard's book "Agriculture Testament" and theories on how people and animals are more healthy and procreative who live in countries of fertile soil. "You've got to go back to the soil to increase virility, longevity and avoid sterility" Dr. Shield summarized making clear that there was a close parallel between barren mares and mineral nutrition from the land.

Lady "Hoss Doctor"

Nancy Lee Poehlmann, of Warrenton, Va., daughter of George Poehlmann, well known horse show and hunt meeting announcer is attending the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, studying veterinary medicine, as she says: "Most people say I'm studying to be a hoss doctor." It is hard work and will be harder but so far I haven't found anything I like as much as I have vet medicine. There are only 5 girls in the vet school now. The going gets a little rough sometimes but I always make out." Miss Poehlmann was recently elected secretary of the Alabama Poly chapter of the A. V. M. A. She expects to get to the Warrenton Horse Show in September, when school's out.

Young Riders

Probably the fastest growing and most progressive group of youngsters in California are those riding from the Barbara Worth Stables, near Sacramento. It has come to be an ordinary experience seeing Mrs. Barbara Zimmerman, owner and instructor of the stables, at a show some 400 miles from home paddocks, directing and encouraging as many as 35 of her young pupils. Mrs. Zimmerman's theory is a simple one, amounting literally to "If they can ride, they can jump, and if they can jump, they can show". And that is virtually the way it works out. Instructress Zimmerman doesn't believe in wasting time on half-dead, worn out school horses, but starts her children out on youngish Thoroughbreds, it is reported. These youngsters are watched and instructed, not coddled. Last summer 12-year-old Miss "Honeybear" Warren, daughter of Governor Earl Warren, who has been jumping less than a year, was mounted on a Barbara Worth jumper champion, Billy Sunday and competed against adults in the Los Angeles National, winning some classes, taking 3rd in the 5'-3" jumper stake.

Red Fox Bank President

Duncan H. Read, at a recent meeting of stockholders, was elected president of the Middleburg National Bank, Middleburg, Va., to succeed the retiring president Thomas U. Dudley. Failing health motivated Mr. Dudley's retirement. The bank's checks for years have been unique, inscribed with a red fox, the Bank's trademark. Mr. Read, well known Middleburg Hunt member, has resided in Virginia for 17 years, and was recently separated from the Navy with the rank of Commander.

Ordinance To Racing

John R. Maluvius served overseas as an Army ordnance officer and now has returned to racing secretary duty at Hollywood Park. He is regarded as one of the youngest and most successful. Herman Sharpe and George C. Zarelli are his assistants.

Brigand's Whiskey

Ned Chase, Woodstock, N. Y., noted horse artist, forwarded the following clipping by Herbert A. Calkins: "The writing of news of the daily occurrences in Troy, N. Y., back in the 70's was crude. It was journalism with its sleeves rolled up. Let's take a random look: Police Court Notes—No persons were sent to jail this morning. William McFarland, who was so drunk that he was conveyed to the Adams Street Station in a wheelbarrow, was discharged. Mary Ann Williams, a delicate flower, whose weight is exactly equal to that of a barrel of flour, was sent to the penitentiary for 2 months in company with Ann Corlin, a miserable old nuisance.... The winner of the 3rd race at Saratoga yesterday was a horse, the lowest in the pools, Brigand. It is said that just previous to the start of the race that a quart bottle of whiskey was poured down the throat of Brigand and it is believed that this stimulant was the cause of his winning the race Aug. 10, 1875".

$25,000 At St. Louis

Quicker than you could say "Meet Me in St. Louis" Fred J. Berkley, president of the St. Louis Horse Show Ass'n., replied to an inquiry on his big Sept. 17-Sept. 22 event to be held in the St. Louis Arena that they had $25,000 in cash prize awards, as well as trophies in the 60 classes scheduled.

50th Maryland In Color

At a subscription supper dance at the Green Spring Valley Hunt Club for members and guests of the Maryland Hunter Show on Tuesday, July 23, colored films of the 50th Maryland Hunt Cup were shown. Final plans for the 4th Maryland Hunter Show were discussed, which event will be held on Sept. 6-8, in benefit of the Maryland General Hospital, according to Hugo R. Hoffman of the Hunter Show Committee.

Beau Bravo

Mrs. Raymond Barbin (Mary Shipman Jackson) well known developer of conformation hunters, of Keswick, Va., purchased Beau Bravo, ch. c., by Satin Coat—Crystal Alma, by Crystal Pennant, for $1,400, from the W. M. Keck, Jr., (Rio Bravo Ranch) consignment in the recent California Thoroughbred Breeders Ass'n., summer yearling sale. Mrs. Barbin spotted this good conformation one when she was doing war work with the Consolidated—Vultee aircraft plant as a "Counseling Director", which translated to layman's talk meant working out improved conditions to increase the working capacities of the women employees. Absent from the horse show game, in which she has had remarkable national success during the past 2 decades, for the duration of the war, Mrs. Barbin airily challenged an owner of one of the leading conformation hunter champions when she returned with: "I'll beat you the first time I meet you" and she did just this at Devon. Both the conformation hunter champion at Devon, Mrs. Royal Firman's Grand Illusion, and the reserve, Robert Fairburn's Chief Guessem, were of Mrs. Barbin's handling. The latter she found during an off Sunday in California. "Next to Barney (Barbin) he is the best thing I found on the Coast during the War" she remarked recently. Now she has Beau Bravo.

North Wales Yearling Party

North Wales opened its hospitable doors, Saturday, July 23rd to Thoroughbred breeders. The establishment, 23 yearlings, 6 stallions and the North Wales breeding organisation were on display. The stallions led the parade with *Chrysler 11, then the recently acquired By Jimminy and Eurasian followed by Hyperionion, Rmillies and Head Play. These 6 sires are soon to be supplemented by First Fiddle, giving one of the widest assortment of bloodlines under 1 roof in the country.

Col. F.L. Hamilton, Chief of Remount, USA has but recently returned from Germany with 100 horses to supplement those at Front Royal from Europe.

The President of the Virginia Breeders Assn. Kenneth N. Gilpin, with Kay, but recently returned from overseas, and Mr. and Mrs. Tyson Gilpin who are getting some "tips" from the "old man". Mr. Gilpin, as President of Fasig-Tipton and well known breeder was greatly interested in the North Wales display.--Marshall Hawkins Photo.

Another Thoroughbred breeder and horseman at North Wales was Melville Church 11 of Northcliff Farm, Rixeyville, Va., who, with Mrs. Church, the former Emily North King, have consigned 7 yearlings to the Sales at Saratoga. They are seen here relaxing under some North Wales shade.--Marshall Hawkins Photo.

Mrs. George P. Greenhalgh of Springsbury Farm casts an approving eye at a chestnut colt by Head Play--Blue Marque by Blue Larkspur as an almost identical Head Play is being coaxed up to the line and a fine *Bahram colt patiently waits his turn to be viewed.

Some of the crowd who watched as 23 yearlings were led up past the gay umbrellas on the terrace at North Wales. The Marine Band played at a discreet distance and were congratulated on their music by Field Marshal Lord Maitland Wilson of the Combined Chiefs of Staff.

Historian And Grand Admiral

Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloan's Brookmeade Stable Grand Admiral sped about the Empire track as a front runner to win the Eastview Stakes on July 20. Mrs. Sloane received the cup from Miss Beatrice MacGuire as her father Dr. Philip MacGuire, extreme left, looked on. Jockey Jessop and Trainer Preston M. Burch were responsible for the War Admiral--Grand Time mare, Grand Flame success.

It was a wide-eyed look of eagles Herbert M. Woolfe's Historian had as he reached the winner's paddock after the Arlington Handicap triumph when he held off the great Armed's gallant weight lifting challenge. Perhaps the winner, Missouri-bred son of Lawrin, was anticipating his air transportation to Hollywood Park from Chicago, a matter of 2,000 miles in 15 hours, for his next stakes effort against the famed Honeymoon. Historian, 112 and Armed, 130 lbs. ran side by side and made their move together to break an 11 year-old track record.
